

Akogie

Principal Deputy White House Chief of Staff, The White House

I'm writing to apply for the position of Press Secretary. I am confident, active, mature, I know how to work with a lot of different types of people that my skills are well-aligned with the role, and that I would be an excellent fit for the position.

I should get this job because I love helping people, when I help people I feel good, this time if I get accepted I will not be only helping people, I will be helping an entire organisation, I will feel proud of me because I really love to help.

Having this position I will be able to improve me and the WH, I have experience as a Law Enforcement Officer, Military Command, as a Journalist, I used to work for DOCAL, I know how to handle many things, I know how to work with a lot of different types of people, I know how to work under stress, I am active, mature, kind and helpful, skills that you need having a important position, if you give me the chance to be the Press Secretary I will never disappoint you and obviously I will never disappoint all the people that trust on me.

As I said before, I love helping people and I also want to get this job because I want to keep people informed so that they know everything that our president is accomplishing to make a better NUSA, and answer their questions at press conferences, since many people think that I am not doing anything, and I want to prove otherwise.

I will be always helping the WH so we can improve with decisions, as I said I have experience in many work areas, so I know that I will be helping a lot.

My skill-set and industry expertise are comprehensive and up-to-date. I make it my top priority to see that the Press Secretary job is done well and efficiently.

I believe myself to be an excellent Press Secretary. During my time working in those positions, I have learned a great deal and achieved a number of goals; you can check them on my resume.

Sincerely,
